

Using Standard Licenses to manage copyright in learning materials

John Casey, David Dripps and Jackie Proven

Introductions & Overview

- Introductions
 - John Casey: TrustDR Project Manager
 - David Dripps: TrustDR Systems Developer
 - Jackie Proven: Digital Rights R & D Assistant
- Overview
 - Practical ways of managing Copyright in digital learning materials

The basics of Copyright

- An interactive exercise

Creative Commons - the Benefits of Standard Licenses

- Simple
- Attribution
- Built on copyright
- Free to use / already created

Range of Creative Commons Licenses

- Attribution
- Non-Commercial
- Derivative works
 - Sharealike

The Trust DR Project

- At the intersection of technology, education and the law
- DRM (Digital Rights Management) systems for institutional repositories
- Cultural issues

